Change of Status to Reflect (circle one) Graduate Undergraduate

I am currently enrolled in a Combined Bachelor's/MAT degree program. I understand that all graduate courses taken at Stony Brook will be used in the calculation of my graduate grade point average.

I am also aware that changing my status will affect my dorm assignments, financial aid and tuition charges. I have discussed these changes with the appropriate departments and have made the proper arrangements to satisfy this transition.

During their undergraduate career, students in the Bachelor's/MAT combined degree program may take up to 15 graduate credits for use towards their undergraduate degree. Once this cumulative credit limit has been met, the student must change his/her status to the Graduate level in order to register for future graduate courses.
